WHAT CAN I LEARN?

The student can upgrade his/her ability to introduce himself/herself and others. He/she can ask and give personal information using the terminologies and expressions provided in the book. Through this, he/she can practice communicating with others confidently. For his/her listening skill to be developed, an audio conversation is added. This is beneficial for the student to write and execute his/her own dialogue with his/her classmates. He/she can develop his/her reading and pronunciation skill by reading the short article found in the book. Finally, there are several useful terms that are very helpful for the student not just for self-introduction but also for having small talks.
